CLASS PROPHECY

When, during the war, I heard remarkable predictions of what atomic power would do, I was at first a bit skeptical. Now my last doubt has been removed! Instead of seeking a fortune teller, who would probably make mistakes anyway, I can now remove myself to any year in the future, and therefore predict what shall come to pass with the utmost accuracy and precision. All this I owe to my own invention, "Super Atomic Prophetic Pills." I do not as yet have a patent for this invention; therefore, I have not placed it on the market. Since I am the only one to whom this power is available, I have been persuaded to use it to foretell the future of the Senior Class of Shelby High School, 1947!

I now place one of my "Super Atomic Prophetic Pills" in my mouth. Bah Room! The Past fades away. The Present grows dim! And I am now living in that fateful year, 1957!

On arriving in Shelby, I crossed the square to that place where countless debates and discussions of national importance were held—the benches in front of a well-known drug store.

I knew I could secure most of my information from the rather prone figures who were slouched there. And so, dodging a heliocopter and jet-jeep (I later found out it was driven by Sara Ellen Honeycutt) I made my way to the benches. Suddenly I tripped over some big No. 12's stretched over half the sidewalk, and, rolling over, I recognized the lanky form of Jack Morgan. Immediately I introduced myself, and after ejaculating about the price of cotton, I inquired of the prosperity of our old classmates. Reenforcing myself with another "Atomic Pill" I listened to the following accounts. Buddy Bumgarner (now "Boss" Bumgarner) was a big political figure and was recently backing "Honest" Allan Washburn for mayor. Kennon Goforth and Gene Gregory were working for the World of Mirth Shows. Kennon ballyhoos for the "Bughouse" and Gene for the "Ecstasy" production. Anne and Jean Gettys were looping the loop with Frances Sloop in a trapeze act that rolled 'em in the aisles.

From there I hurried over to Coach Dick Walker's home where he and Assistant Coach Lloyd Williams were discussing strategy for the Shelby-Morganton game on Friday night. In his room the radio was turned to the "Grand Ole Opry" and I heard Boyd Chapman, Don Cheek, Earl Davis, and Thomas Spangler singing, "The Rocket Ship to Mars." Becky Miller and Mary Jane Mauney were playing in the role of the "Cackle Sisters" on this same program.

Visiting the local newspaper, I found that Ruth Rogers was society editor and P. M. Mauney was Circulation Manager. P. M. was showing the secretary, Esther Silver, some complaints from two of his subscribers, Mazie Gray and Philip Rucker. Mazie said that the paper boy threw a paper just as she opened the door and the steak she put on her eye cost 65c per lb. And Philip said it positively should have been Rucker instead of Sucker marries local girl.

Leaving the local newspaper, I grabbed a bus, and imagine my surprise to find Horace Hord driving. I also met Pete Dudley and Mary Alice Sikes on the bus. I asked Pete what he was doing, and he said he was still taking chemistry in high school. I got off at radio station WOHS to find Bob "Beach-bum" Tate and Beverly Ellis putting on a show similar to that of Kate Smith! Bill Freeman was sound effects man, and told me how his kids put a firecracker under Miss Mary Bumgardner, their teacher, and how she was still suffering from shell-shock. With that, I decided to leave; so taking a "Super Prophetic Pill" while standing on my head (that caused the pill to take the opposite effect), I reverted to my former state in 1947. And this is my report for the activities of the Senior Class ten years from now.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-seven, being of sane heart and sound mind (we hope), having survived the episode of our life entitled "High School," and realizing that we soon must part from this, our present life, do feel that the time draws near for an inventory of our earthly possessions, both good and mostly bad, for a division of the same among our associates. Therefore, we dispose of the said possessions in the following manner:

Article I. Juniors

To the Junior Class we do hereby bequeath the task of publishing the '48 Cruiser—a task we are confident they will accomplish in a manner that will be an inspiration of future classes.

Also to them we leave our dignity, knowledge, worries, and privileges.

To these Juniors we will the following individual Senior traits:

1. To Andrew Miller, Philip Rucker leaves his quiet disposition.
2. To the entire Junior Class, "Lal" Sikes leaves her generous amount of freckles.
3. To "Shorty" Abercrombie, Jack Cannon leaves his football shoes.
4. To Gordon Hamrick, Ruth Rogers leaves her Lincoln Zephyr to be demolished in any way desired.
5. To any five Junior girls, Sara Ellen Honeycutt leaves her gift of gab.
6. To Margaret Rabon, Mazie Gray leaves her meekness.
7. To Margaret Easom, Esther Silver leaves her horse laugh.
8. To "Weasy" Horn, Jeanne McCormick leaves her ability to talk a blue streak without missing a lick on her chewing gum.
9. To Kenneth Shields, "Skin" Deviney leaves his towering anatomy.
10. To Bill Lutz, Pete Dudley leaves his ability to sit through class and absorb nothing, Period!
11. To Brewster Eskridge, Joe Walker leaves his knowledge of chemistry, in order that the building may be spared undue stress resulting from explosions.

Article II. Sophomores and Freshmen

To the Sophomores and Freshmen, our love for dear ole' black and gold, requesting them to support our Alma Mater. Also, to these pupils we leave the following Senior characteristics:

1. To Alton Hopper, Jr., Robert Wray leaves his ability to cut classes without being caught.
2. To Norman Gold, "Bulldog" Williams leaves his Frank Sinatra voice.
3. To Dick Lackey, Dick Walker leaves his sports ability.
4. To Guynell Shaw, Mary Elizabeth Greene leaves her grey matter.

Article III. Faculty

To our faculty, who have assigned and graded their way into our hearts, we leave an unofficial pardon for all wrongs administered to us.

To Miss King, our sponsor, we leave a few more gray hairs and our sincere appreciation for her untiring efforts.

Article IV.

We do hereby appoint our beloved English teacher, Mrs. Inez Connor, sole executor of this, our Last Will and Testament.

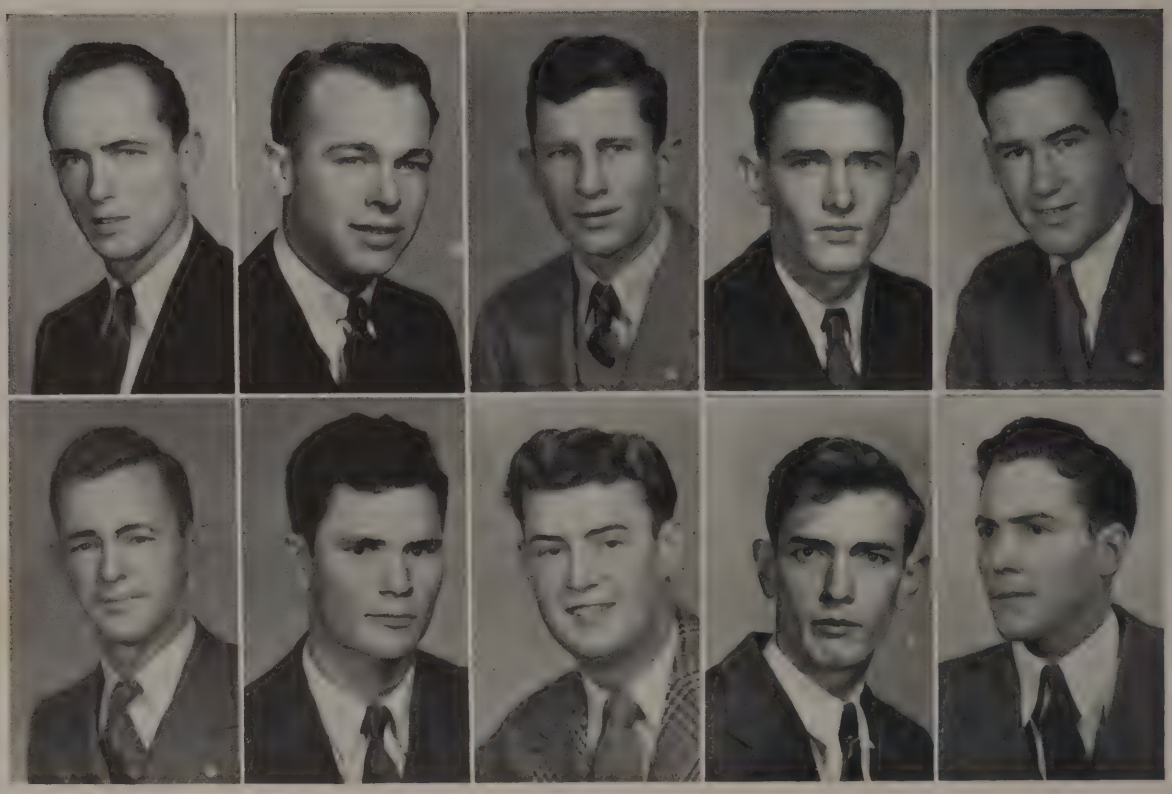

Article V.

We, the witnesses, knowing the Senior Class to be studious, prosperous, and dependable, do hereby affix our signatures, as witnesses to this Last Will and Testament of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-seven.

Distributive Education is a cooperative Retail Training Program which prepares one for a career in Retailing. Students have for their use and betterment an open field of advantages.

The Shelby High School Distributors Club, composed of sixteen members, all of whom are employed in local retail business places, is a member of the Associated Distributors Clubs of North Carolina.

The foremost advantages are: learn while you earn, form correct work habits and attitudes, develop an effective business personality, build a firm foundation for advancement in business, learn sound principles through actual work experiences, bridge the gap between school and job.

To fill the highest aims of the Distributors Club, as they study to improve their work, is to develop to the fullest their places as tomorrow's leaders in Distributive business.
